PORTFOLIO MANAGER'S REPORT

INVESTMENT REVIEW (PROVIDED BY LEGAL & GENERAL INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT)

The following information relates to the L&G (N) Tracker Trust, the underlying Collective Investment Scheme of the LF Tracker Pension Fund.

INVESTMENT ACTIVITY AND MARKET REVIEW

As an index-tracker fund, the investment activity in the L&G (N) Tracker Trust focused on the aim of achieving close and efficient tracking of its benchmark. Although UK equities performed well in 2017, the market has now recorded three consecutive months of losses as global uncertainties underlined sentiment. The market has been led higher by resources stocks, benefiting from the strength of commodity markets. Financials have also outperformed the broader market, led by shares in insurance companies while autos performed well, driven by a prolonged hostile takeover bid from Melrose Industries for component supplier GKN which eventually received shareholder approval. The weakest sectors have been utilities and personal & household goods. These sectors are less sensitive to the economic cycle but are more closely correlated with bond markets, and tend to underperform when investors are more optimistic about the economic outlook and earnings growth prospects.

OUTLOOK

The volatility we have seen so far in 2018 has prompted investors to consider how the rest of the economic cycle will play out and how equities – after an almost decade-long bull-run – will perform. While equity market corrections are relatively common, a prolonged bear market most likely requires a recession. This prompts the question: when is the next recession going to be? Our view is that the fundamentals driving economic growth remain relatively strong, and global growth is synchronised and therefore see limited recession risks in the next 12 months.

TRUST INFORMATION

RISK PROFILE

The Fund invests in a single collective investment scheme which invests almost entirely in company shares in order to closely match those that make up the FTSE All-Share Index. The main risk applicable to the Fund is Market Risk; specifically market price risk. This is due to the potential movement in the value of financial instruments held by the underlying fund as a result of price fluctuations. The underlying fund may invest in overseas financial securities and therefore performance of the Fund may be affected by changes in exchange rates through its holding in this fund. There is little exposure to either credit or liquidity risk, as the asset held is readily realisable.

COMPARATIVE TABLE

Information for 31 March 2018 relates to the 6 month period ending 31 March 2018. The operating charges relate to the expenses incurred on an ex post basis over the 6 month period ending 31 March 2018, expressed as an annualised percentage of the average net asset value.

Where the Fund has significant investment in collective investment schemes, the operating charges take account of the ongoing charges incurred in the underlying schemes, calculated as the expense value of such holdings at the period end weighted against the net asset value of the unit class at that date.

LF CORPORATE BOND PENSION FUND

For the half year ended 31 March 2018

PORTFOLIO MANAGER'S REPORT

INVESTMENT REVIEW (PROVIDED BY LEGAL & GENERAL INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT)

The following information relates to the Legal & General Sterling Income Fund, the underlying Collective Investment Scheme of the LF Corporate Bond Pension Fund.

INVESTMENT ACTIVITY AND MARKET REVIEW

The fund delivered positive returns over the period. The portfolio deliberately runs a shorter duration than the wider corporate bond market given its dual objectives of delivering a 2.75% distribution yield and maintaining capital over the medium term. 2017 was a difficult period for gilts, and so our favouring of short-dated bonds and comparatively large weightings in high yield bonds supported the fund's performance. As we entered 2018, concerns that interest rates could rise more steeply than expected weighed on bond markets, while global inflationary pressures weighed on government bonds. Nevertheless, sterling credit markets rallied in March, lifted by 'safe haven' buying of underlying government bonds. We reduced the portfolio's credit risk over the course of the year. Duration was four years, while the distribution yield ended the quarter at 2.7% – slightly below the fund's target. High yield bond exposure ended the period at 17%, while the cash/gilt weighting was 3%.

OUTLOOK

Looking ahead, markets are sensitive to negative headlines and volatility has significantly increased. This is likely to be due to the gradual removal of central bank support, which leaves investors facing higher volatility and yields that remain very low in a historical context. Large swathes of the market have performed very strongly just because yields have been so low for so long thanks to extraordinary central bank policy. The earnings season could afford some respite, as it is likely to focus on robust economic growth and solid corporate earnings. However, the underlying market backdrop appears to be weaker.

TRUST INFORMATION

RISK PROFILE

As LF Corporate Bond Pension Fund invests directly in Legal & General Sterling Income Fund, the former is exposed to the following risks as disclosed in the Prospectus of the underlying fund:

'This scheme invests in fixed interest securities – usually corporate and government bonds. Investment returns are particularly sensitive to longer term interest rate movements, typically those for five years and more. Scheme values are likely to fall when these interest rates rise.

This scheme invests in sub investment grade corporate bonds so there's an increased risk of fund values falling due to non-payment by the companies issuing bonds. The financial strength of a company or government issuing a fixed interest security determines their ability to make some or all of the payments due. If this financial strength weakens, the chances of them not making payments increases and this could reduce the value of an investment and the amount of income paid.'

INVESTMENT REVIEW (PROVIDED BY HENDERSON GLOBAL INVESTORS LIMITED)

The following information relates to the Janus Henderson Money Market Unit Trust, the underlying Collective Investment Scheme of the LF Money Market Pension Fund.

MARKET REVIEW

Following slightly better than expected economic data and headline October inflation hitting 3%, the markets continued to gradually discount a 0.25% rate rise at the upcoming Bank of England ('BoE') Monetary Policy Committee ('MPC') meeting. November saw the majority of the MPC judge that a 0.25% increase in the Bank rate was required, as steady erosion in the level of slack in the economy had made it appropriate to tighten policy. At the end of the review period, the European Union had agreed on the broad terms of the UK's two-year transition deal after leaving the bloc in March 2019. The MPC was also more optimistic over the state of the UK economy, while mindful of a tightening labour market (when unemployment is falling and there are few job vacancies available, which tends to push up wages).

By the start of 2018, a number of European Central Bank ('ECB') committee members were vocal in their belief that the ECB dovish stance should be tempered. The March ECB meeting saw the removal of the easing bias, when the pledge to expand its monthly bond purchase programme was omitted from the minutes. The US Federal Reserve continued to tighten monetary policy; they raised rates twice over the review period. Possibly of greater importance, was that from October they started a reduction in quantitative easing.

FUND ACTIVITY

At the beginning of the review period, as it became more apparent that the BoE would raise the Bank rate, the fund adopted a very defensive posture. When the MPC made its decision the fund had reduced its weighted asset maturity ('WAM') (WAM= average time remaining until the maturity of assets in a portfolio) to 45 days. Following the November rate rise, the fund started to extend its maturity profile. The hawkish tone of the March meeting saw the fund adopt a slightly more defensive posture. By the end of the review period, the fund's WAM was 73 days.

OUTLOOK

With low unemployment starting to produce domestically-generated inflation through higher wages, the MPC is looking to tighten monetary policy more quickly than was previously projected. However, the second round of Brexit negotiations is due to begin next month and, whilst there appears to be a more pragmatic approach from the EU, a number of thorny issues need to be resolved. Any vocal disagreements could have a significant impact on the nascent sense of optimism beginning to emerge from the UK economy.

TRUST INFORMATION

RISK PROFILE

As LF Money Market Pension Fund invests directly in Janus Henderson Money Market Unit Trust, the former is exposed to the following risks as disclosed in the Prospectus of the underlying fund:

'With funds investing in bonds there is a risk that interest rate fluctuations could affect the capital value of investments. Where long term interest rates rise, the capital value of shares/units is likely to fall, and vice versa. In addition to the interest rate risk, bond investments are also exposed to credit risk reflecting the ability of the borrower (i.e. bond issuer) to meet its obligations (i.e. pay the interest on a bond and return the capital on the redemption date). The risk of this happening is usually higher with bonds classified as 'sub-investment grade'. These may produce a higher level of income but at a higher risk than investments in 'investment grade' bonds. In turn, this may have an adverse impact on funds that invest in such bonds.'

COMPARATIVE TABLE

Information for 31 March 2018 relates to the 6 month period ending 31 March 2018. The operating charges relate to the expenses incurred on an ex post basis over the 6 month period ending 31 March 2018, expressed as an annualised percentage of the average net asset value.

Where the Fund has significant investment in collective investment schemes, the operating charges take account of the ongoing charges incurred in the underlying schemes, calculated as the expense value of such holdings at the period end weighted against the net asset value of the unit class at that date.
